

DEX (DEX)

About :

This is a token issued by the mining exchange of Coinbits, which has the highest priority on sustainability and transparency to recognize and solve the problems of the current mining exchange.

Distributed to customers through trading mining, and COINBIT shares Exchange revenues with customers through DEX.

A DEX is a decentralized exchange and is essentially a new type of pair matching that allows people to place orders and trade cryptocurrencies without an intermediary institution managing the ledger or controlling user funds.
